

Greetings Spelmanites,

My name is Fran'cee Brown-McClure and I am your Dean of Students at Spelman College. I hope that you are enjoying your summer and getting ready for your college transition.

Spelman College and other AUC institutions have partnered with EverFi, whose mission is to help students address critical life skills such as alcohol abuse prevention, sexual assault prevention and financial literacy.

As part of our comprehensive alcohol and sexual violence prevention program for new students, all incoming students will be required to complete AlcoholEdu, Transit, and Haven. These online courses will provide you with information and feedback to empower you to make well-informed decisions about alcohol, help cope with drinking behaviors of peers, and explores key issues associated with sexual assault and relationship violence. The modules on sexual violence will also provide statistics, definitions and bystander skills and strategies.

Your login directions and additional details are included in this communication. Students are required to complete Part I of AlcoholEdu and Part I of Haven before arriving for New Student Orientation. The program is accessible right now.

EVERFI has partnered with the National Domestic Violence Hotline to provide access to an anonymous "Chat with an Advocate" feature within this course. If at any time during the course you would like to chat with a trained Hotline advocate, you can click the "Chat with an Advocate" button. Advocates are available to chat every day from 7 a.m. - 2 a.m. Central Time. No identifiable information of learners using the chat feature will be collected by EVERFI nor shared back with Spelman.
